

Club Med's reaction to the decision not to open the ski resorts in February

"After the decision not to open the ski resorts in February, we are thinking of the thousands of families who were looking forward enjoying safety and freedom during their holidays, in our magnificent Club Med resorts, located in the heart of the beauty of the French Alps. We would like to thank all of them warmly for their trust they continue to have in us every day.

We are also thinking of our amazing teams of 4,000 G.Os and G.Es who are passionate about their work: they wanted to welcome our customers in our Resorts and live a unique experience.

Finally, we are thinking of all the people and professionals in the mountain areas, an outstanding economic and human network.

They have created a French world leader, which is today without prospect.

We are more than ever at their side.

Together with its partners of "la cordée de la Montagne", Club Med is at the disposal of the French government to define the measures needed to save the French Mountain."
